3. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow :

Wind energy uses the motion of wind with the help of turbines to generate electricity or mechanical power. Wind energy is one of the fastest-growing renewable energy technologies. Production of wind energy globally has grown by 75% in the past two decades. Wind energy generation began in the UK and US in the 19th century but modern wind energy was developed in Denmark. Wind energy is a clean and renewable energy source and it does not create pollution. Also, wind is a resource that cannot be exhausted unlike coal and other fuels. It is cost effective and provides the lowest priced energy source if located in ideal wind sites. Jobs in the sector are increasing with need for service technicians and managers. However, turbines produce noise and their large size affects the landscape. Also, wildlife of the area may be impacted negatively by wind energy plants. It is important for scientists to research on these aspects of wind energy.

Questions :

- (i) How is electricity produced by wind energy ?
- (ii) Give one advantage of wind energy.
- (iii) Give one disadvantage of wind energy.
- (iv) How do we know that wind energy is one of the fastest growing technologies ?
- (v) What work must the scientists do to make wind energy better ? 5×2=10
